This JCR further notes:

- ix) Being i) is too much ii) for one person
- x) Even if the i) copes with the ii), having so much ii) sucks the iii) out of having to iv)
- xi) Similarly, being v) and having to vii) for every viii) is too much ii) and so reduces the iii) of being v)

This JCR therefore proposes:

To create an vi) who will combine the roles of i) and v). They will iv) and will vii) for one viii) each. As ii) is shared there is more time for iii). The vi) will run as a team with president already decided.
